CAVE OF GFXY

MADE IN TSUKURU 2003

The Cave of GFX Adventure

Once upon a time I made my first RPG Maker game. The year was 2006 and I joined my first forum: One of those PhpBB free forums that anyone could make. It was called 'The Cave of GFX' and it had the fantastic amount of 10 members total. It's theme was learning to use photoshop to make forum signatures for a weekly contest that we held every week so not only was this an adorable micro-community of active amateurs learning together, but it was also the first place I made a game for the world to see, starring some of my best friends from there. Including all the quirks of a first RPG Maker game made by a 16-year-old, I hope you can get a few secondhand embarrassing laughs out of this, I'm sure I have 'em everytime I play!
